Educator Here

Hon. U. S. Hall, Prest. of Pritchett Institute and one of the most excellent educators in the state passed thru our city in an automobile Saturday.

President Hall has made Pritchett Institute at Glasgow one of the leading colleges in the country, and enjoys the distinction of turning out matriculates who learn what they know and know what they learn after their college days are over.

Country Social

Miss Bertha Cuddy who lives 4 miles west of town entertained a number of her young friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cuddy last Friday night. The evening was spent in games and plays and a splendid luncheon at 10 p. m. was served.

Those from town Beulah Bennett, Francis Holman, Hazel Gordon and Chas. Bondurant, Dewey Hughes, Guy Roberts, Ray Lewis, Jim Ben Willett, Vernon Thrash and Harvey Rucker. Dewey Hughes took the young ladies and Chas. Bondurant out in his automobile. The guests from the country were too numerous to give their names here.

The marriage of Miss Delea Allega to Charlie Hayes, Saturday eve was the end of an extended courtship, and the uniting of two of our worthiest young people. Both grew up here and are known and loved by all, and the best wishes of the whole town will follow them where ever they go.

Thirty-Eight Convicted

The jury in the trial of the forty dynamiters and accessories at Indianapolis, Ind. returned verdict of guilty against 38 of them Friday and the average sentence in the penitentiary will be 39 years.

Two from St. Louis were among those convicted, John H. Barry and Paul J. Morrin.

There were forty counts in each indictment and each count was sustained. Preparations for appeal to the U. S. Court of Appeals were made by defendants counsel, among whom was Senator Kern of Indiana in advance of the conviction, and it is plain that the Labor Union will fight to the last resort. All convicted were members of labor unions.

Prize Working Beauty

Leta Durham, 17 years old of 2245 Montgomery Street, St. Louis, was on Christmas eve night adjudged the most beautiful working girl in St. Louis. The prize was a $50 set of furs and an annual pass for two to the La Salle Theatre.

Miss Durham is a blonde, affable and competent, and is a stenographer and won over suit, coat and fur models as well as hundreds of other pretty working girls. Her employer Charles E. Carroll, an insurance adjuster will duplicate the $50 prize and likely hear from Mrs. Carroll.

Miss Durham judging from her picture, is pretty and her mouth is the acme for a smile, but she is lucky that none of our country typists were in the game.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lamkin last week entertained the former's mother, Mrs. E. P. Lamkin, of Clinton, Mo.

Mrs. Grant B. Hurt entertained a number of friends from a distance during Christmas week.

FATAL ACCIDENT

Dr. Paul Tainter Killed

Dr. Paul Tainter whose headquarters were at Callao where he and his wife and child lived at a hotel was killed instantly last Friday morning about 4 o'clock near Kaseyville in Randolph county by the overturning of his automobile.

Dr. Tainter who was reared in this county was called about 3 a. m. for a professional call on Mrs. Dr. Allen of Kaseyville, Dr. Allen being in St. Louis attending a medical association. He at once prepared his big five passenger automobile and proceeded to make the call. A Mr. Harmon who lives on the road heard him pass his home about 4 a. m. and says he judges the Dr. was going about 35 miles an hour. Next morning after breakfast, another call was sent to the hotel for Dr. Tainter from about the same neighborhood and Mrs. Tainter informed the caller the Dr. was down that way. A call to the home of Dr. Allen disclosed that he had not been there, and Mr. Harmon learning of the matter took his automobile and started out to hunt the missing physician. About a quarter of a mile from his premises he saw Dr. Tainter's automobile facing him, the front and machinery badly damaged and the windshield and Dr. Tainter in the road at the rear of the machine, the Dr. dead and the windshield smashed. This was about 8 o'clock.

From appearance, a steering rod had broken, the Dr. had put on the emergency brake and the machine had turned completely over facing the exact opposite way and upright, and the Dr. thrown out, breaking his neck in the fall.

Rufe Leonard our popular all-rounder who was laid up with gout in his feet, for 6 weeks at Uncle Jim Emersons north of town recovered in time and sufficiently to be on hand during the holidays.

Mrs. Pratt Huckaby is ill with tonsilitis.
